

WHERE TO SHOP NOW

Oxford

This preppy Mississippi college town has style to spare. Consider this your shopping syllabus

No. 1
ZÔE

Serving as Oxford's go-to makeup counter, Zôe carries high-end brands, such as Le Métier de Beauté ($95), typically reserved for Bergdorf's or Neiman's. Shop rouges and balms from trusted names such as NARS and Bare Escentuals, or fall in love with new lines such as Kneipp. 265 North Lamar Blvd.; zoeoxford.com

No. 2
CICADA

This über-trendy boutique added a menswear shop in 2011, making it the go-to stop for his-and-hers hipster wear. Guys can shop from Billy Reid coats and J Brand denim while the ladies stock up on Shoshanna frocks ($385), Rag & Bone tops, and glitzy Alexis Bittar bangles ($295). 307 South Lamar Blvd.; shopcicada.com

No. 3
VILLAGE TAILOR

Classic-style doyennes have frequented Village Tailor for more than 20 years for its Tory Burch shoes and bags, Jude Frances charms, and Loeffler Randall bags ($495). The trusted clerks will even work with shoppers to pick out looks tailored to their personal tastes. 145 Courthouse Square; shopvillagetaylor.com

No. 4
THE GREEN DOOR COMPANY

Will Hopkins turned his handy knack for building end tables, headboards into a full-fledged business that he runs with his wife, Missy. The duo sells dining tables, picture frames, and more made of reclaimed wood from The Delta. 1501 Molly Barr Road; thegreendoors.com

No. 5
AMELIA

When Erin Austen Abbott was traveling nanny for bands such as The Flaming Lips, she always looked for indie shops that carried rarities on the road. Her affinity for one-of-a-kind items translated into this shop selling letterpress cards, artsy coasters ($5), and vintage jewelry. 1006 Van Buren Avenue; ameliapresents.com
